

Shop Kansas Farms (SKF) started in 2020 when grocery store shelves were empty because of COVID. When Rick McNary created the Facebook group, it grew overnight. Today more than 167,000 people connect in the group over food and farming.

Through the SKF website, www.shopkansasfarms.com, consumers can search for locally grown food in their region and growers can connect with buyers who want to purchase from Kansas farmers and ranchers.

If you're a grower and would like to market your business, reach out today by emailing skf@shopkansasfarms.com.

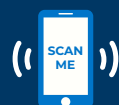

MARKET OF FARMS EVENTS

Communities interested in bringing Shop Kansas Farms fans to their region are encouraged to purchase the rights to host a Shop Kansas Farms Market of Farms. You'll receive instructions and the use of the SKF brand to host a one-time event.

HARVEST HUBS

Developing a local food system involving growers, processors and distributors brings economic prosperity and revenue to your community. If you're interested in creating this opportunity where you live, let's talk!

Email skf@shopkansasfarms.com for more information on any of the programs offered by Shop Kansas Farms.

Want to stay up to date on the latest SKF happenings? Open your smartphone camera and scan the QR code to sign up.